Examiner's Amendment

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with attorney Darren Collins on November 7, 2003.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 1 and 6.

In the first line of claim 2, replace "The method of claim 1" by – The method of claim 23 --.

In the first line of claim 5, replace "The method of claim 1" by – The method of claim 23 --.

In the first line of claim 7, replace "The method of claim 1" by – The method of claim 23 --.

In the first line of claim 8, replace "The method of claim 1" by – The method of claim 23 --.

In the first line of claim 9, replace "The method of claim 1" by – The method of claim 23 --.

In the first line of claim 10, replace "The method of claim 1" by – The method of claim 23 --.

After the third line of claim 11, insert a new line, to read – means for obtaining information regarding prior use of the at least one telecommunication service by at least one of the plurality of buyers; --. At the end of the fifth line of claim 11, replace the semicolon after “service” by a comma, and after the comma, insert – the request including the information regarding the prior use; --.

In the sixth line of claim 12, insert between “service,” and “presents” – the request including information on prior use of telecommunication services of the group,--.

After the fourth line of claim 22, insert a new line: --obtaining information regarding prior use of the at least one telecommunication service by at least one of the plurality of buyers; --. At the end of the fifth line of claim 22, replace the semicolon after “service” by a comma, and after the comma, insert -- the request including the information regarding the prior use; --.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 23, 2-5, and 7-10 are allowed.

Claim 11 is allowed.

Claims 12-21 are allowed.

Claim 22 is allowed.

Claim 23 is allowed.

The following is an examiner’s statement of reasons for allowance: The closest prior art of record, Shkedy et al. (U.S. Patent 6,260,024), discloses a computer-implemented method, comprising: aggregating a plurality of buyers for purchasing at least one product or service as a group (Abstract), wherein the product or service may be telecommunication service (column 28, lines 35-38); generating a request for purchasing the at least one service (column 3, lines 39-55); presenting the request to a plurality of providers (column 3, lines 39-55); and receiving replies from the providers in response to the request (column 3, lines 39-55). Shkedy does not disclose presenting the replies to at least one of the buyers in the group, or receiving a selection from the at least one buyer in response to the replies, but Giovannoli teaches presenting providers' replies to buyers (column 2, lines 35-51), and receiving a selection from a buyer in response (Figure 2B). Giovannoli is not explicit about notifying a provider of the selection, but notification is inherent, in that business (shipping of a product from the selected provider to the buyer, payment from the buyer to the provider) could not take place without notification of the provider. Shkedy does not disclose obtaining information regarding prior use of telecommunication service, but the article "Bell Offers Answers for Commonly Asked Customer Questions" teaches that whether customers are required to pay a deposit for new telephone service depends on whether they have had prior credit problems with the telephone company (paragraph beginning "A: Usually, no."), which implies obtaining information regarding prior use of telecommunication service. However, neither Shkedy, the "Bell" article, nor any other prior art of record discloses, teaches or reasonably suggests obtaining information regarding prior use of the at least one telecommunication service by at least one of the plurality of buyers, and generating a purchase request including the information regarding the prior use.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Castro (U.S. Patent 5,265,155) discloses a method and apparatus for prepayment of telecommunications connections in a telecommunication switching network. Shoham et al. (U.S. Patent 6,584,451) disclose a facilitator for aggregating buyer power in an on-line market system. Van Horn et al. (U.S. Patent 6,631,356) disclose demand aggregation through online buying groups. Mesaros (U.S. Patent Application publication 2003/0126040) discloses e-commerce volume pricing.

Salazar ("The Fight Against Slamming & Cramming") discloses abuses by telephone carriers (this was described in the response of September 9, 2003 as being included as an appendix, but was not found there, and is therefore made of record now).
